

Why put

there?

Thursday 7 November 2013, 10am-3.30pm at Roche Court

A Curating Seminar for Young People aged 16-24

- Why is curation important?
- How do you pursue a career in this field?
- Are you aged 16-24 and considering a career as a Curator?
- Would you like the opportunity to gain practical advice from professionals, supporting your own studies and future careers?
- Hear exciting presentations by Curators from major galleries including Tate, Jupiter Artland, Cubitt Gallery and The Hepworth Wakefield,

The day will also provide the opportunity to ask questions and join in tours of current exhibitions

Thursday 7th November 2013 10am to 3.30pm

New Art Centre, Roche Court

'Why Put That There?'

A Curating Seminar for Young People

Morning session

- Hear presentations from a range of professionals from both regional and national arts organisations.
- Learn about the diversity of roles within Curation, and career choices that you might not have considered.
- Ask questions to all curators in a Q&A session and during a shared lunch between speakers and students.

Afternoon session

Attend a choice of practical activities including:

- Talk and discussion of the current exhibition: Students will be able to discuss curational choices on a tour of the current exhibition
- Curational tour of the sculpture park: Students will join staff from the Roche Court Educational Trust on a tour of the sculpture park, discussing as a group the role of curation in outdoor spaces and participating in exercises to put knowledge into practice.

The day will also be an opportunity to signpost further opportunities including representatives from NADFAS, as well as staff/literature for MFA in Curating Courses
